inspire

The mentoring programme, AkarakA Inspires, comprises of an integral part of the scholarship process – to ‘inspire’ as well as educate! It’s not just about funding their school fees but developing them into competent young adults, equipped to face the challenges of the business world, and improve their employability. The mentor sessions are conducted as group discussions so that the mentees can benefit from a larger discussion as many of them may face the same situations. Mentoring may be formal and structured such as personality tests and development, which can be spread over several sessions.

Students are nurtured through a holistic developmental plan. On the socio-emotional side, it’s about bonding through events, social gatherings, or even cook out sessions.

A four-stage programme has been planned, of which Stage 2 was completed in November 2016.
